A 360° film about Gdańsk — a one-page brief

A series of guided 360º drone flights with captions · by Andrii Shramko

What it is

- A series of 360º drone flights over Polish cities, with a guide and captions on screen; the film about Gdańsk is in the works.
- Films in 8K (7680×3840), 60 fps — on YouTube, in DeoVR and in VR headsets; on a phone or a computer you turn the picture with a finger or the mouse.
- An independent initiative of the author, not a city hall publication.

What is ready for Gdańsk

- 360º drone footage: Śródmieście and Aniołki.
- The film with a guide and captions is in the works.
- Finished films in the series (examples of the format): https://torun.flyreelstudio.eu/en/ and https://bydgoszcz.flyreelstudio.eu/en/
- The city's page in the series: https://gdansk.flyreelstudio.eu/en/

Accessibility

- Open captions burned into the picture (WCAG 2.1, criterion 1.2.2) — in English, like the narration (a synthetic voice).
- The same text in three places around the viewer; the guide's full text under every film.
- A version with Polish captions — on request; there is no Polish Sign Language (PJM) or audio description yet.

What else we can do

- A VR stand at a city event — a flight over the city in a headset.
- A 3D scan of a chosen historic building, with its model on a phone via a QR code (a pilot for one building).
- A screening without headsets: a big screen, a kiosk or a 360º room.

Permits and paperwork

- Aviation permissions (PAŻP/ULC) are handled by the author; qualified UAS operator (A1/A3).
- From the city: permission for take-off sites; for historic buildings and interiors, the manager's consent.
- Embedding the films from YouTube needs no paperwork; screenings, 8K files and trade fairs — terms to be agreed at a meeting.
